City of Cheney - 609 Second Street, Cheney, WA 99004

Occupancy Limits 101: Renting in the Right Zone

With rental season upon us, here are some reminders of specific rules regarding occupancy limits in Cheney. The City of Cheney regulates the number of unrelated persons allowed to reside in a dwelling located in Single-Family (R-1), Two-Family (R-2), and Multi-Family (R-3 and R-3H) residential zones.

In an R-1 zone, a housing unit may be occupied by:

- A family (or functional family)
- Plus one additional unrelated person

In an R-2 zone, a housing unit may be occupied by:

- A family (or functional family)
- Plus two additional unrelated persons

In an R-3 or R-3H zone, a housing unit may be occupied by:

- A family (or functional family)
- Plus three additional unrelated persons

A functional family is "... a group of unrelated persons, limited to not more than two adult persons (together with their respective family members), living together as a single housekeeping unit, and sharing and operating a unified and common household."

Regardless of whether you are a homeowner, property manager, or renter, it is your responsibility to ensure compliance with all City codes. We hope that providing you with this information will help to prevent problems.
